“ October 4, 2025.
Second Birthday with Jesus.
I remember the impact of your life for me.
“Taken aside by Jesus,
Shall I shrink from the desert place;
When I hear as I never heard before,
And see Him “face to face”?”

“ I can't believe it's already been a year. I love and miss you dearly, Grandpa. I think about you daily, whether it's a song that reminds me of you, someone riding by on a Harley, or just looking down at my leg at the tattoo of your bike. Your legacy and love that you had for your grandchildren will carry on for generations to come. Your vinyl records that you passed down will be forever enjoyed by me and Porter, yet another great memory of you for me to hold on to. All the years I got to spend with you will never seem like enough, but I'm so lucky that I got to have you in my life. I'm so lucky to call you my Grandpa. Thank you for your life and your love. Love, your favorite blue eyed granddaughter.

“ I’m so grateful to have had the best grandparents of anyone I knew. As a kid, I loved that we had such a fun, big house to run around in —playing, swimming, and even having our own little clubhouse (the shed). It helped me appreciate my imagination and build strong relationships with Gentry and Eli. Christmas was always so magical, and you and Grandpa went the extra mile to make it special for us with things like the fountains. It made me love the holiday even more and cherish how close our family was, giving us a tradition we all bonded over.

Growing up traveling, going to Hawaii, and sometimes even flying first class made me appreciate the value of exploring new places and cultures. It inspired me to pursue a career that changed my life for the better. And whenever I needed help, you and Grandpa were always there with a helping hand, without ever making me feel bad about it. That support taught me to be financially independent and to appreciate the finer things in life (lol).

Momo and Grandpa played such a huge part in shaping who I am today, and for that, I’m so thankful. □

“ Brian Stock's Birthday 02/02/1956
From Shannon Donaldson Shaffer

I woke up this morning and remembered today is Brian's birthday. I wonder what a birthday is like in heaven. I know we are no longer bound to the things that were a part of this world, but I'm going to believe that in heaven there's some sort of remembrance for the gift of life God chose to give us.

Really it's such an amazing thing that out of all He created: eternal beings like angels and even creatures here. He gave us life. A life full of choices, chances and love and beauty and sometimes pain. But a life of our own, to walk out however we choose. I think that is something we often take for granted.

But I think in heaven we will fully realize just what a gift it was. Which will make us praise Him even more for what a good God He is!

Brian made a difference in my life. He brought security and steadiness and I'm so thankful he was ours.

“ While I worked at Egan/DS in New Jersey, we had many projects with Brian at HMW Films, Linear Films and best of all Paragon Films spanning 25 years. On my many trips to Tulsa to visit and have meetings we always managed to have a great time. He was an amazing guy, will be missed by many. So sorry to learn of his passing weeks ago.

“ Brian always had a great story and was a pleasure to care for. He was appreciative of those caring for him and spoke often of his family, who he was so proud of. May his memory be eternal!

“ Many years ago, Brian Stock, a young man met and fell in love with Wendy, a single mother. They married, and raised a kind and beautiful daughter, Shannon. The daughter Shannon met her prince, Michael, and they married. Soon they had three adorable grandchildren, Peyton, Gentry, and Eli. They blessed their lives. They celebrated holidays and vacations together. Through the ups and downs of life, they stood in solidarity. Peyton was the first grand baby. She had a strong connection and bond with her grandfather, Brian. Gentry blessed them with a great grandson, Porter Julian (PJ) Smith. PJ brought much joy and happiness to them all, especially Brian. Eli met and married Jenna, whom has also brought blessings to our family. Brian touched the lives of many, family, friends and caregivers leaving a legacy behind.

“ Celebrated the life of the coolest grandpa. He took me on motorcycle rides and we listened to The Rolling Stones. He loved skulls, the color black, but most of all he loved us kids and I think it's quite fitting that every October when we remember his life and legacy, everything will be a little darker for him. Until next time Grandpa ❤️ love, your favorite brown eyed granddaughter.

“ You fought long and hard, and I couldn't be any more lucky than I was to have you around as long as I did. You endured and pushed through every trial and tribulation that was sent your way. You told me that you wouldn't be around long to see PJ grow up, but you held on and you made it a whole four years plus some.. thank you for everything, and all the love that you gave to PJ and I. I'll see you again someday... I'll love you forever Grandpa. ❤️👍
