“ *My condolences to the family of Dr. Wood.
I enjoyed the time spent with him practicing his French. His knowledge of French literature and history made the lessons meaningful, his questions were always challenging. I learned from him as well.*

“ Although separated by years and miles, my brother, Doug was always there for me. He was the go to person for me during the sickness and deaths of our parents, with visits, many many phone calls and most of all advise. He continued to keep in touch since then with regular calls and visits when possible which were always appreciated.

One of the many things I remember about Doug was his ability to pursue many different adventures during his life. When he decided to tackle a project he always pushed himself no matter how difficult or how much it was out of his comfort level to be the best he could be. I will miss your calls, love always.

“ My Dad spent his life living on his terms. If he couldn't do something for himself, he was not going to have anyone else do it for him. He is by far the smartest person I have known and so dedicated to ensuring his family was well prepared for life. He lived his last days at home in his train room with his cat beside him. Thank you for all the support. I am at peace knowing that somehow my Dad was able to pass on his terms too...Thank you Dad for pushing me to be who I am today. With each year I get older, I become more aware and appreciative of who you are and all that you have done. I will continue to strive to live my life in that awareness and will see you again. We love you - Lynsay

“ Doug Wood was a long time engineering friend of mine. We met in engineering school in Canada as students and developed a close friendship over the years. He was a very gifted man who always shared his knowledge and many talents. My wife and I have fond memories of the times we spent together. May he rest in peace. Caroline and Roy Grierson.
