“ When I first saw this notice I thought it must be that darling cute little boy who was son's friend growing up in the old neighborhood near 81st and Elm. But I wasn't sure so I waited for more information. I will remember Chris as that a sweet and kind young boy who was always smiling and playing with my son Darren all around the neighborhood. I bet Chris' sons are just a wonderful as he was. The boys lost touch with each other as they grew older but I will never forget him. I am so pleased he was such a wonderful chef. God Bless the family.
