“ Where do I even begin...my heart truly aches for Lana, Roy, Wes, and Fred. Danny was my childhood friend...he and I lived next door to each other for many years when we were in elementary school at Walt Disney...I have endless fond memories of he and simply playing and being kids. We would jump each others backyard fences to play me dodging Luke and Regal haha, we rode 3 wheelers together, at Christmas made ornaments together...I even remember his piano lessons and when he won first place for the Biggest Kite Contest...I also remember every first day of school he and I would go together and my mom probably Lana too would take pictures of us...I just remember us always playing...laughing...and I always referred to him as my best friend. After 5th grade I moved to California and even then for a few years after I would visit him when I would visit my dad. I always remember Danny as being so kind...so sweet...and so funny. As life would have it as time passed we lost touch but even now and then fond stories/memories would/have come up about Danny...words are never enough and sometimes the deepest sincerity doesn't come across but stranger now or not I will always treasure our time together and our childhood friendship...love you Danny
