“ Because I could never fit her cute little body into the shampoo bowl because she was tiny , I would always soak her back when washing her hair and also have a river on the floor. I soaked her sometimes all the way to her underwear. I told her 1 day that she just could not wear underwear anymore when she came to get her hair done. She responded - OK I can do that It shouldn't be a problem. I know that's kind of personal but she just cracked me up! P.s. not sure if she ever really did that!
