TH

Mr. Walker was a man that respected very,very highly.You see he inadvertently taught me some very valuable lessons when i was teenager. Ed jr.(Chip) and jonny were my neighbors and to go one further Ed was my best friend.Spent alot of time at the Walkers family home and as life has it being a teenager can teach you some important lessons in life and becoming a man.Mr walker taught me some of those lessons (some ive never forgotten and use to these days) .while teaching his son the same.In fact your best friends father while being a teenager has a tenacity of teaching the both the same lesson at the same time.Mr Walker was a wise considerate man that while being firm was the respected people i ever meant.He will be missed im sure.One more fallen "Hero" "chip",jonny, and Jenny, i am so very sorry for your loss. My biggest wish was so i may have been there to give all a hug and shed a tear with you.Prayers to each and everyone of ypur familys.God bless
