“ It took me years to find a great connection with a stylist that I loved, but Emily fit that bill. Emily has been my stylist for years, gave my daughter her first haircut and has cut it ever since. I wanted to share these photos taken back in may. She will be dearly missed.

“ From one Bandito to another:

We may not have met, but we were part of the same quiet fight, the same healing songs. I will listen to Breach for both of us. Rest In Peace beautiful.
