“Dad, your number one son, Chris, will miss you. You took care of me and family, always there when I needed you. Went to my basketball and football games, and was there when I was bowling. You always encouraged me when I thought I was falling to stand up and fight. You went to work early and came home late and still managed to play ball or help with the car. I remember when you jumped off the roof and broke both legs crawling around the house like it was nothing. Thank you Dad for your support, guidance, and for loving me. Ill never forget you. I miss you and I always remember your face. I LOVE SO MUCH. Love number one son Chris. No more pain.
