“Howard, the best uncle ever! I am his niece. I remember when I was 10 or so years old, we were all at grandmas house for a holiday more than likely. somehow the subject of pierced ears came up and he made it sound so easy, painless and said he could do it. I was terrified! I don't know if I was more terrified of the pain or the fact that my mom was going to kill me. Uncle convinced me he would take the blame. So we went upstairs, he had a needle, some thread, alcohol and an ice cube. He made me hold the ice cube to my ear, he had marked with an ink pen (not very sanitary)... He had insured my confidence by telling me he had been a medic and stitched up a lot of people and he "knew how to use a needle and thread." I am not sure how long it took, but I remember the screams, that brought attention to the action happening upstairs. Soon we had an audience. After the first ear, I wanted to stop, but then what do you do? So round 2 commenced. Still have those slightly crooked pierced ears today.

What I remember the most? How much he enjoyed my dramatics, laughing the whole time and yet being so patient with me. Who got in trouble for it you ask? HE DID! Mama let him have it...

I miss you uncle, love you more.

And when we ascend into heaven, we are made whole again, returned to our youth, no more pain, no more suffering.

Say hi to mom...
