“ Our dear friend & coworker, Jeff was a key member of the C&J family for more than 30 years. He played an important role in our industry with his extensive background in Metallurgy and refractory technical sales/service. Jeff travelled throughout all territories supporting customers and his fellow C&J team. His knowledge and support played a vital role in success of Canfield & Joseph. Jeff was an avid fly fisherman, designed and tied his own flies. Jeff fished many trout rivers and streams across the US. Over the years he made many friends happy to meet him at the stream as he passed through town. He also enjoyed fishing for giant Pike in many Canadian provinces. Over the years Jeff made lifelong friends and fishing buddies. His knowledge, humor and friendship will be dearly missed. He was very special to all of us.

Jeff was always making us smile. We will miss you Jeff
