“ I met Judie in Jr. High. We made a fast friendship. She always made me laugh. She had a colorful childhood, and I could never keep up with all the details, but she was always a wonderfully happy person. In high school we became even better friends, deeper friendship, more meaningful. She and I became very involved in the art department. We loved our teachers. Mr. Preo and Mr. Pink. They were awesome with all our laughing and fun we had. Karyl Komay and Laurie Hiller were all in that little group. Mr. Preo labeled the dark room "the zstorm. At one point, he gave us the 3rd art room because we were doing very large oil paintings. After painting a while, we left the room. When we came back, the oil paint dripped on the floor. We were scared to death. Afterall, it was a brand new classroom. We got out the paint thinner and cleaned it. Left for a while, and when we got back, the paint thinner squeezed through the tiles and now we had black adhesive oozing between the tiles. There was Mr. Preo, standing there looking there as we walked into the room. He didn't get mad, shooed us out of the room and never brought it again. We "Hens" were very lucky. Put 4 girls heads together and something funny will happen,

Judie was a good friend. I enjoyed keeping up with her over the years. She is one of the people I would have really would have loved to see again.

Judy, you were an angle on earth and now you're one in heaven. I will catch up with you there when God calls me home. Al's up there. Give him a hug from me. I always loved you. RIP dear friend.
