“ There are so many memories about this sweet mother that comes to find, especially over the past two months. However, our family continues to chuckle over a few nuggets While Mary was in the hospital, we tried to encourage her to eat. One of the aids brought her a blueberry muffin. Each day we would ask her if she was ready to eat her muffin that sat on the bedside tray. It was packaged so had a few days of freshness. When we moved her to a skilled nursing facility and then into our home, we moved the muffin with her. Bob began to refer to it as her, "pet muffin". It is likely to show up at the memorial service.
