“ I don't think it is possible to put in to words how much my Mom meant to me. She was the one person in my life that I knew would always be there for me. The one that I could always run to when my world fell apart. The one that would help me get back on my feet again when life had knocked me down. She was the rock I clung to when the rivers raged against me. Her Love was strong, steady and unconditional. She accepted me for who I was and never tried to make me someone I wasn't. I am truly blessed to have been Loved so much, and I know that no-one on this earth will ever Love me as much as My Mom did. I will cherish the many memories we shared. I will miss hearing her voice. I will miss her laughter and the goofy faces she would make just to get a laugh out of me. I will miss holding her hand and the comfort of her hugs. I will miss just being with her, and I don't know how I will live life without her. I've never had to do this before, and it was my hope I would never have to.

“ Words from her daughter Lori.

MOM

How do you say goodbye to the one who gave you Birth?

How do you measure her Value and her Worth?

How do you go on with life and honor her memory?

How do I convey all the things she meant to me?

My mom was such an important and influential person in my life. We had such a wonderful and close relationship these last few years and for that I am forever grateful. She was one of the best caregivers that I have ever known. First with her own Dad who she cared for when he was ill and then with my sister Terri. I was so amazed at the strength and stamina she had when taking care of my sister. She was not a spring chicken (70 years old at the time) yet she never wavered in her care and compassion while taking care of her. She went through alot of sadness and grief after the loss of her daughter. She had alot of dark days. Then along came a little boy who gave her life a reason and a purpose. She had someone to care for again. He always said "GiGi is my best friend" and they were the best of friends. The caregiver in her was back again and continued until the end. I will miss so many things about her. A phone call, a hug, a see you later, a trip out to eat, a smile, a laugh, a I love you and so much more. I am so thankful God gave her to me as my Mother. So Mom until we meet again I will love you and miss you for the rest of my life.

“ I have a lifetime of memories. She introduced me to meatloaf sandwiches. Still my favorite. I think of her every time I make one, on toast, with her homemade thousand island dressing, just like she taught me. Gonna miss stopping to visit her when I'm in the Tulsa area.
